Jesus Embraces his Mission: Today's gospel reading is the central turning point of the Gospel of Mark. Thus far in the story Jesus has appeared as a healer and exorcist, a wonder-worker, displaying an "authority" that throws the Pharisees, upholders of a conventional orthodoxy, into disarray. The meaning of his activities is far from clear and produces a host of conflicting interpretations. Now Jesus turns to his disciples, and to us, the readers of the Gospel, with the question: "Who do you say that I am?" No matter how securely we define the nature of Christ, in biblical study and in doctrinal formulations, he will always remain one who questions us. Who do we say that he is? He is the crucified and risen one, who will come in glory. In fact, Christ is crucified all around us, and the power of his resurrection is at work everywhere as well. We miss seeing this when we cling to our selfish security, "for whoever would save his life will lose it."

NEW COVID-19 GUIDELINES

From Monday 19 July many of the current restrictions were lifted in line with the new guidance from the Bishops Conference and the Government. This brings an end to the official social distancing arrangements and so the benches will be gradually returned to their normal positions. Congregational singing will be allowed again. The collection will also now return to its traditional position during Mass. Confessions will resume in the Confessional Boxes. Timings for all services and confessions are available on the parish website and on notices around the Church. We are aware that some of us may still be anxious about coming into public buildings. Therefore, we encourage the following:

- That face coverings continue to be worn when in the Church at Mass and busy services, unless you are exempt.
- That you sanitise your hands on entering the Church.
- That, where possible, you try to leave two seats between you and other people not known to you.
- We also ask that you do not come into the Church if you have any symptoms of Covid-19 or have been asked to self-isolate having come into contact with someone with the virus.
