*Hail, O Queen of Heaven enthroned.
Hail, by angels mistress owned.
Root of Jesse, Gate of Morn Whence the world's true light was born: Glorious Virgin, Joy to thee, Loveliest whom in heaven they see;
Fairest thou, where all are fair, Plead with Christ our souls to spare.*

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

My eyes are always on the Lord, for he rescues my feet from the snare.
Turn to me and have mercy on me, for I am alone and poor.

COLLECT

O God, author of every mercy and of all goodness, who in fasting, prayer and almsgiving have shown us a remedy for sin, look graciously on this confession of our lowliness, that we, who are bowed down by our conscience,
may always be lifted up by your mercy.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.
Amen.

FIRST READING Exodus 3:1-8, 13-15

A reading from the book of Exodus.

Moses was looking after the flock of Jethro, his father-in-law, priest of Midian. He led his flock to the far side of the wilderness and came to Horeb, the mountain of God. There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in the shape of a flame of fire, coming from the middle of a bush. Moses looked; there was the bush blazing but it was not being burnt up. "I must go and look at this strange sight," Moses said "and see why the bush is not burnt." Now the Lord saw him go forward to look, and God called to him from the middle of the bush. "Moses, Moses!" he said. "Here I am" he answered. "Come no nearer" he said. "Take off your shoes, for the place on which you stand is holy ground. I am the God of your father," he said, "the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob." At this Moses covered his face, afraid to look at God.

And the Lord said, "I have seen the miserable state of my people in Egypt. I have heard their appeal to be free of their slave-drivers. Yes, I am well aware of their sufferings. I mean to deliver them out of the hands of the Egyptians and bring them up out of that land to a land rich and broad, a land where milk and honey flow."

Then Moses said to God, "I am to go, then, to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you.' But if they ask me what his name is, what am I to tell them?" And God said to Moses, "I Am who I Am. This" he added "is what you must say to the sons of Israel: 'The Lord, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you.' This is my name for all time; by this name I shall be invoked for all generations to come."

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

PSALM

Psalms 102

Response:

The Lord is compassion and love.

1. My soul, give thanks to the Lord, all my being, bless his holy name.
My soul give thanks to the Lord and never forget all his blessings. (R.)

2. It is he who forgives all your guilt, who heals every one of your ills, who redeems your life from the grave, who crowns you with love and compassion. (R.)
3. The Lord does deeds of justice, gives judgement for all who are oppressed.
He made known his ways to Moses and his deeds to Israel's sons. (R.) 4. The Lord is compassion and love, slow to anger and rich in mercy.
For as the heavens are high above the earth
so strong is his love for those who fear him. (R.)

SECOND READING 1 Corinthians 10:1-6, 10-12

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians.

I want to remind you, brothers, how our fathers were all guided by a cloud above them and how they all passed through the sea. They were all baptised into Moses in this cloud and in this sea; all ate the same spiritual food and all drank the same spiritual drink, since they all drank from the spiritual rock that followed them as they went, and that rock was Christ. In spite of this, most of them failed to please God and their corpses littered the desert.

These things all happened as warnings for us, not to have the wicked lusts for forbidden things that they had. You must never complain: some of them did, and they were killed by the Destroyer.

All this happened to them as a warning, and it was written down to be a lesson for us who are living at the end of the age. The man who thinks he is safe must be careful that he does not fall.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Glory to you, O Christ, you are the Word of God!
Repent, says the Lord,
for the kingdom of heaven is close at hand.
Glory to you, O Christ, you are the Word of God!

GOSPEL

Luke 13:1-9

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke.

Some people arrived and told Jesus about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with that of their sacrifices. At this he said to them, "Do you suppose these Galileans who suffered like that were greater sinners than any other Galileans? They were not, I tell you.
No; but unless you repent you will all perish as they did. Or those eighteen on whom the tower at Siloam fell and killed them? Do you suppose that they were more guilty than all the other people living in Jerusalem? They were not, I tell you. No; but unless you repent you will all perish as they did."

He told this parable: "A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came looking for the fruit on it but found none. He said to the man who looked after the vineyard, 'Look here, for three years now I have been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and finding none. Cut it down: why should it be taking up the ground?' 'Sir,' the man replied 'leave it one more year and give me time to dig round it and manure it: it may bear fruit next year; if not, then you can cut it down.'"

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, (all bow during the next two lines) who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried;

he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
he ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.
Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

Be pleased, O Lord, with these sacrificial offerings,
and grant that we who beseech pardon for our own sins,
may take care to forgive our neighbour.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

The sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for her young: by your altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God.
Blesses are they who dwell in your house, for ever singing your praise.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

As we receive the pledge of things yet hidden in heaven and are nourished while still on earth with the Bread that comes from on high, we humbly entreat you, O Lord, that what is being brought about in us in mystery may come to true completion.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE PEOPLE

Direct, O Lord, we pray, the hearts of your faithful,
and in your kindness grant your servants this grace:
that, abiding in the love of you and their neighbour,
they may fulfil the whole of your commands.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

24 MARCH 2019

Sunday Message

THIRD SUNDAY OF LENT

THE WORD

Year C • Psalter Week 3

The first part of our Gospel reading today reflects a common doctrine of retribution which teaches that good behaviour is rewarded and sin is punished – in this life.

As in other places in the Gospel tradition, Jesus mentions but does not question this understanding. The two physical disasters referred to are not described anywhere else, but Pilate was certainly capable of ruthless action. The call to repent, to change one's outlook and manner of life, is made to everyone: everyone, therefore, is a sinner. Jesus tells his audience not to assume that they are less in need of repentance just because nothing so calamitous has happened to them. Jesus' death on the cross in Jerusalem, where Siloam is situated, will be such a scandal precisely because it can be seen as a punishment for sin.

Death brings judgement. One aspect of these two tragedies is that they were unexpected, and those who were killed had no time to prepare themselves. This introduces an urgent note: people should not put off accepting the word of Jesus the prophet.

The parable of the fig tree softens this message somewhat: it suggests that people still have time to sort themselves out. But this period is not unlimited, and if the Lord finds them wanting at his coming, then they will be cut off. The word of the prophet demands an answer: to delay accepting the message and its consequences will be regarded as a negative reply and treated accordingly. ■

LEARN

Pilate was a cruel and ruthless ruler, quite capable of ordering the kind of massacre which is mentioned in today's Gospel reading.

No other Gospel writer mentions this slaughter of Galileans at worship.

Siloam is the name of a pool in Jerusalem. It is mentioned in the Fourth Gospel.

The book of Deuteronomy teaches that good is rewarded and sin is punished: this is known as the doctrine of retribution.

SAY

The Lord is compassion and love.

REPENT – OR ELSE (?)

(LUKE 13:1-9)

REFLECT

The word of God is alive and active: it speaks to us today when we listen to it being read in church or read it quietly for ourselves. The purpose of today's reading is not to frighten us into being outwardly good for fear of being caught unawares, then finding ourselves being held to account in some divine court. It is perhaps a reminder that we should not take life and time for granted. In a society where life expectancy seems to lengthen all the time, we may be inclined to think that we have plenty of time ahead of us.

Today's Gospel is not telling us that we should live in an atmosphere of impending doom: rather this time of Lent is a yearly opportunity to examine our lives and attitudes. We might reflect on the second part, that of the landowner inspecting the fig tree, and be relieved that in Luke's version of the story, the fig tree is not cursed or cut down immediately, but is given another chance. We should take this seriously.
Jesus tells us that it is not enough simply to acknowledge him as Lord, but that we should be ready to receive him whenever he comes and knocks at our door. We will be ready if we are truly his disciples, living by our Master's teachings, not out of fear or punishment or hope of reward, but out of loving commitment to our Saviour. The drawback with acting out of fear is that it wears off and the person slips back. Love is the key to the covenant relationship, and Lent is the time when we are asked to look at our relationship with the Lord and to prepare in a meaningful way to celebrate his love for us revealed in the Easter mystery. ■

DO

Remember that the three practices of Lent are prayer, fasting and almsgiving (in that order). Is your Lenten penance making the Lord nearer to you in your daily life? If your penance only makes you more conscious of yourself, it is not too late to choose something more appropriate.
