

The Parishes of Northwood and Carpenders Park & South Oxhey

TWENTY NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
(18th October 2026)

Dear Parishioners

Last Monday as the Welcome Mass marking the beginning of the new academic year in St Joseph's school, I asked the children a simple question: "What is something new you have learned since coming back to school?" One child gave an answer that made me smile: "Things get harder!"

There is a certain wisdom in that answer. As we grow, we discover that learning is not always easy. Sometimes we are challenged, sometimes we struggle, and sometimes life presents us with things we would never have chosen. Yet it is often through these difficult experiences that we learn some of the most important lessons of all. This has certainly been one of those weeks for our parish community.

The news that Pope Leo is suffering from lung cancer has been a cause of concern and sadness. We remember him in our prayers, asking the Lord to strengthen him in his illness, to guide those caring for him, and to sustain him in his ministry as successor of St Peter.

However, the greatest shock for us locally has been the sudden death of Linda Grimes, the parish administrator at St Joseph's, on Tuesday, following a bleed on the brain the previous Thursday. Her death has come with devastating suddenness, and we hold her family and all who loved her in our prayers at this time of shock and grief.

Linda was one of the people who helped keep St Joseph's on the road when Fr John, my predecessor, died. She took on a vital role in supporting the parish, working closely with Fr Andrew, who was Dean at the time. She gave far more than was asked of her, always working longer hours than she was paid for and keeping an eye on the parish email even when she was not officially working.

But what made Linda so special was not simply the amount of work she did. It was the way she did it. She approached everything with enthusiasm and a smile. Whoever came through the door, telephoned, or sent an email was treated as though they were the most important person she had to deal with at that moment. She was always willing to go the extra mile, to do more than was expected, and to make sure that things were taken care of.

Linda was also a woman of deep faith. For her, faith was not simply something to profess on a Sunday; it was something to be lived out in the ordinary circumstances of daily life. Her generosity, her commitment to the parish, and the care she showed to others were expressions of that faith. She reminds us that holiness is often found not in extraordinary deeds, but in the ordinary things we do, performed with extraordinary love.

This Sunday's Gospel offers us another reminder of where our priorities lie. When Jesus is asked whether it is right to pay taxes to Caesar, he responds: "Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's" .

We can sometimes become so caught up in the demands and responsibilities of everyday life that we forget the deeper purpose behind them. Yet our Christian faith is not separate from our daily responsibilities. It shapes how we work, how we treat others, how we serve our communities, and how we respond when life becomes difficult.

Linda understood this. She gave herself generously to the work entrusted to her, but she also saw the people behind the tasks. Her example reminds us that our service to God is often expressed through the love and care we offer to one another.

Perhaps that is one of the lessons we can take from the child's answer at the beginning of the school year: things do get harder. Life brings challenges, unexpected loss, and moments when we struggle to understand what is happening. But our faith teaches us that we do not face these moments alone. We belong to a God who holds us in his love, even when the way ahead is difficult to see.

As a parish family, we give thanks for Linda's life, for all that she gave to St Joseph's, and for the many lives she touched. We pray for the repose of her soul and ask the Lord to welcome her into his eternal kingdom. We also pray especially for her family and friends, that in the midst of their shock and grief they may know the consolation and peace of Christ.

May Linda rest in peace, and may the angels and the saints come to greet her. And may we, inspired by her example, remember that the greatest lessons we learn are often those taught not by words, but by the way someone lives their life.

With all my prayers and best wishes

Fr Tom

Safeguarding News

The CSSA (Catholic Safeguarding Standards Agency) is currently inspecting safeguarding in The Diocese of Westminster

To do this as effectively as they can, they welcome information from anybody who feels they have something to tell them about safeguarding in Westminster Diocese. The opportunity is open until Friday 6 November 2026 (5pm).

The CSSA are here to independently judge safeguarding in Catholic church bodies across England and Wales, and to publicly share the results. They want their inspection process to be transparent, and to help drive up safeguarding standards.

You can email them, and they can call you back if they need to understand better the information you provide. Wherever possible, they need evidence or specific details which can help them build an accurate picture.

Any information you offer will be treated confidentially with one of their expert and experienced team members. They will not share your confidential information with anyone at the Diocese of Westminster unless you explicitly ask them to. But they will take the information into account when they assess our safeguarding. If they feel that there are people at risk now, they may intervene or report to statutory agencies any unreported crime. Details of how to contact them can be found at https://rcdow.org.uk/news/share-safeguarding-information-about-the-diocese-of-westminster/

Safeguarding in our parishes

It can be easy to think that Safeguarding is someone else's job. In fact it is all our job, our church wants to make our parishes safe places and have a positive culture of safeguarding. Some of our volunteers because of their roles have DBS checks and undergo online training. CSSA are asking that all volunteers take part in some training to help us all understand what Safeguarding is. Fr Tom would like to invite all volunteers to a training session, either on the evening of Thursday 22nd October or the afternoon of Saturday 24th October.

Caritas Westminster

Caritas are organising an online event called Beyond the Surface: Understanding Trauma on Wednesday 18th November from 7.00–9.30pm This is an accessible and practical session (led by Nikki Dhillon Keane, Head of Caritas Hope and BACP-accredited therapist) exploring how trauma can affect people's experiences and behaviour, and how we can respond in ways that promote safety, dignity and trust. Particularly useful for those volunteering in foodbanks, homelessness projects and other community settings, this session is open to all. Saint of The Week
Saint John Paul II, Pope

Patron Saint of World Youth Days

Do not be afraid. Open wide the doors for Christ. To His saving power, open the boundaries of States, economic and political systems, the vast fields of culture, civilization and development. Do not be afraid. Christ knows "what is in man." He alone knows it. So often today man does not know what is within him, in the depths of his mind and heart. So often he is uncertain about the meaning of his life on this earth. He is assailed by doubt, a doubt which turns into despair. We ask you therefore, we beg you with humility and trust, let Christ speak to man. He alone has words of life, yes, of eternal life. ~Inaugural homily of Pope John Paul II .

Born in Wadowice, Poland, Karol Józef Wojtyła's early life was one of loss and suffering. When Karol was twelve, his mother and two siblings had already died. His father, who taught him devotion to Mary and how to pray, died when Karol was twenty-one. His university studies were forced underground when Germany invaded Poland, igniting World War II. To avoid deportation, Karol worked in a quarry and a chemical factory. Sensing God calling him to the priesthood, Karol studied in a clandestine seminary. He escaped a 1944 Nazi round-up by hiding in his uncle's house and then hid in the archbishop's residence until the Soviet Red Army liberated Kraków on January 19, 1945.

On November 1, 1946, Karol was ordained a priest and then studied for his doctorate in Rome. While in Rome, Father Wojtyła visited the Capuchin monastery in San Giovanni Rotondo, where the famous mystic Padre Pio resided. In confession, Padre Pio told Father Wojtyla that he would "ascend to the highest office in the Church." In 2002, Pope John Paul II canonized Padre Pio.

Back in Poland, Father Wojtyła spent ten years in pastoral ministry, taught and served as university chaplain, received a second doctorate in philosophy, and wrote poems, plays, and articles. He gathered university students for prayer and discussion, as well as kayaking and camping trips. While on a camping trip with friends in 1958, he was called back to Warsaw and learned that he had been named auxiliary bishop of Krakow at age thirty-eight. The new bishop lived simply and maintained his friendships. He took part in the Second Vatican Council, becoming cardinal for Kraków in 1967.

When Pope John Paul I died in 1978 after thirty-three days in office, the cardinals chose Cardinal Wojtyła as pope, the first non-Italian pope in 455 years. In his inaugural homily, Pope John Paul II said words that echoed during his papacy, "Do not be afraid. Open wide the doors for Christ."

Pope John Paul II drew massive crowds in 129 countries while in office. He met with heads of state, held open-air Masses, began World Youth Day celebrations, met with leaders of other faiths and survived an assassination attempt. He commanded a powerful and endearing presence everywhere, almost always speaking in the native language. In 1979, his visit to his homeland sparked the Solidarity Movement, leading to communism's downfall in Poland. The movement spread across Eastern Europe, where democratic governments replaced communism in the coming decades.

Pope John Paul II wrote extensively on morality, dogma, spirituality, Mariology, sexuality, family life, marriage, the dignity of the person, the economy, and society. Along with his encyclicals, apostolic exhortations, apostolic letters, apostolic constitutions, motu proprio, many catecheses, homilies, plays, and books, he reformed the Code of Canon Law and promulgated the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

Among the 482 saints that Pope John Paul II canonized was Saint Faustina Kowolska, the Polish nun entrusted with the Divine Mercy message. He instituted Divine Mercy Sunday on the second Sunday of the octave of Easter. After bravely suffering with Parkinson's disease, unable to walk and barely able to talk, Pope John Paul II died on April 2, 2005, the eve of Divine Mercy Sunday..

Saint John Paul II, your life began with the loss of your earthly family, but you were later entrusted with the entire world as your children.
Please pray for me,
that I will never allow hardships in this life to deter me from the service of God's will,
so that I can remain hopeful and fearless as I seek to serve our glorious God.
Saint John Paul II, pray for me.
Jesus, I trust in You. .

Pope Leo XIV: A Time for Prayer and Hope

There has been worrying news from Rome this week concerning the health of Pope Leo XIV, but also encouraging signs as he begins his recovery.

Speaking after the Angelus on Sunday 11 October, the Holy Father announced that doctors had discovered a small, localised nodule in his lung and recommended surgery. He was admitted to Rome's Gemelli Hospital on Tuesday, where he underwent an operation to remove the affected part of his right lung. The Vatican subsequently confirmed that the diagnosis was lung adenocarcinoma, a type of lung cancer. The operation was reported to have gone well, without complications.

The days following surgery have brought reassuring news. Pope Leo has been recovering steadily, walking, eating normally and undertaking physiotherapy to help his breathing. Photographs released by the Vatican showed him celebrating Mass in the hospital chapel, a reminder that prayer remains at the heart of his life and ministry, even in a time of illness.

On Saturday 17 October, doctors confirmed that the Pope was well enough to leave hospital and return to the Vatican. His recovery will continue, and further medical assessment will help determine whether additional treatment is needed.

Let us continue to pray for Pope Leo, asking the Lord to strengthen him, grant him a full recovery and sustain him in his ministry of service to the Church. We also remember all those living with cancer, their families, and the medical staff who care for them.

May Our Lady, Health of the Sick, intercede for the Holy Father and for all who are ill, bringing them comfort, courage and hope in Christ.

Readings at Sunday Mass

First reading Isaiah 45:1, 4-6

Thus says the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus,
whose right hand I have grasped,
to subdue nations before him
and to loose the belts of kings,
to open doors before him
that gates may not be closed:
'For the sake of my servant Jacob,
and Israel my chosen,
I call you by your name,
I name you, though you do not know me.
I am the Lord, and there is no other,
besides me there is no God;
I equip you, though you do not know me,
that people may know, from the rising of the sun
and from the west, that there is none besides me;
I am the Lord, and there is no other.'

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm 96(95):1, 3. 4-5. 7-8. 9-10a, c. ℟7b

Ascribe to the Lord glory and power.

O sing a new song to the Lord;
sing to the Lord, all the earth.
Tell among the nations his glory,
and his wonders among all the peoples.

Ascribe to the Lord glory and power.

For the Lord is great and highly to be praised,
to be feared above all gods.
For the gods of the nations are naught.
It was the Lord who made the heavens.

Ascribe to the Lord glory and power.

Ascribe to the Lord, you families of peoples,
ascribe to the Lord glory and power;
ascribe to the Lord the glory of his name.
Bring an offering and enter his courts.

Ascribe to the Lord glory and power.

Worship the Lord in holy splendour.
O tremble before him, all the earth.
Say to the nations, 'The Lord is king.'
He will judge the peoples in fairness.

Ascribe to the Lord glory and power.

Second reading 1 Thessalonians 1:1-5b

Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: grace to you and peace.

We give thanks to God always for all of you, constantly mentioning you in our prayers, remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labour of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ. For we know, brothers and sisters loved by God, that he has chosen you, because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!
Shine as lights in the world,
holding fast to the word of life.
Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

Gospel Matthew 22:15-21

The Lord be with you.
And with your spirit.

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew.
Glory to you, O Lord.

At that time: The Pharisees went and plotted how to entangle Jesus in his words. And they sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, 'Teacher, we know that you are true and teach the way of God truthfully, and you do not care about anyone's opinion, for you are not swayed by appearances. Tell us, then, what you think. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?' But Jesus, aware of their malice, said, 'Why put me to the test, you hypocrites? Show me the coin for the tax.' And they brought him a denarius. And Jesus said to them, 'Whose likeness and inscription is this?' They said, 'Caesar's.' Then he said to them, 'Therefore render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's.'
