The Heart of Christ is compelled by immense compassion. He is the Good Samaritan of all humanity, who tells us: "Go and do likewise" (Lk 10.37). This compassion drove him to break the bread of the word for the crowds and to teach them the meaning of sharing (cf. Mk 6.30-44). In this way, he gave us a glimpse of what he was later to do in the Upper Room and on the Cross, as he gave us his very self as food. Pope Leo XIV 24 June 2025
