Dear Parishioners,

For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous.'

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus invites us to see that when our love is pure, we are motivated to do our holy duty toward God or another. True love always looks at the good of the other, to see the ways people around us are materially or spiritually poor, crippled, lame and blind, so that we can help them in accord with God's will. When our motivations are pure and selfless, looking only to glorify God and care for others, Jesus promises us that God will lavish upon us eternal rewards that begin now. We will grow rich in virtue and rich in the fruits of the Holy Spirit. We will obtain joy, peace, strength, courage, love, goodness and so much more. Jesus is the greatest example of this kind of love; giving everything for us, while we were still sinners and sacrificing his life for us all. Let us reflect, today, upon what motivates us each day. Let us seek to humble ourselves by turning our attention to the love of God and the needs of others and make loving and serving them our personal Christian mission.

God Bless You, Fr Martin
