

The Gospel
John 1:35-42

*So they went and saw where Jesus was staying,
and they stayed with him that day.*

Jesus asked,
“What are you looking for?”

Uh, something.
They weren't sure what.

So they answered with a question:
“Where are you staying?”

“Come and see.”

And they found what they had been seeking.

Christ,
take us too to your space.
We want to spend our time with you.
Let us find your radiance,
right here, right now,
always, in our everyday lives.

Message from Cardinal Vincent

Taken from the Cardinal's latest letter to the clergy, dated Friday 15th January.

"Since everything in this world will one day fail us (of which we get a taste when the world has put us down), it is in Him alone, even more than before, that you will put your total trust, hope, love and desire.

With what sweetness he wants to fill the bitterness of the world leaving us empty. Where others criticise, His heart is moved to even greater love. But how much does He have to take from us to be empty enough, or inspired enough, to want Him alone?
My prayer is that what He has allowed to be taken so far is enough."

"Whatever the disharmony, or dislocation we feel or face, in ourselves or others, there can be no other response for us to make than to bring it to the Lord. Only He can calm and restore Only He can infuse fresh energy and love. Only he can heal and strengthen."

"Attend to the pleas of your people with heavenly care, O Lord we pray, that we may see what must be done and gain strength to do what needs to be done. Through Christ our Lord."

"Thanks a million"
to our dedicated team of volunteers, who are working very hard to help our church remain open during these difficult times.
We think you are all wonderful.

Fr. Eugene, Fr. Joe, Fr. Liam and Fr. Tom.
