Today is Peace Sunday 2024

Prayer

God our creator and sustainer,

We thank you for the gifts of creativity you have given us, for the ability to explore science and understand your creation.

We ask your forgiveness for the times we have used science for evil and not for good, for war and not for peace.

Make us vigilant as we develop technology, that violence and discrimination may not take root, that injustice and inequality will not be fuelled, that the poor and vulnerable will not pay the cost.

May all that we create contribute to peace and justice.

Amen

A Note on Fiducia Supplicans

Bishop John Sherrington

The Declaration Fiducia Supplicans presents a rich and broad reflection on the meaning of blessings and then examines in a careful and nuanced way the possibility of blessing couples in irregular situations including same-sex couples. The Declaration is written as a response to questions which the Dicastery has received about such blessings and the recent dubia.

Fiducia Supplicans opens with the words, "The supplicating trust of the faithful People of God receives the gift of blessing that flows from the Heart of Christ through his Church." (n.1) All blessings come from God through the Church.

This Declaration affirms the Church's perennial teaching on marriage and states that blessings of people in complex situations does not validate their status or change in anyway the Church's teaching (n.4-6). These blessings are acts of devotion which are outside of the Eucharist and sacramental practice (n.24). Pastoral practice should neither cause confusion nor scandal, and so "blessing should never be imparted in concurrence with the ceremonies of a civil union, and not even in connection with them. Nor can it be performed with any clothing, gestures, or words that are proper to a wedding. The same applies when the blessing is requested by a same-sex couple." (n.39)
