+ PASSION SUNDAY

“Then came the day of Unleavened Bread on which the Passover lamb had to be sacrificed.” (Lk 22.7)

Palm Sunday (also called ‘Passion Sunday’) begins the most holy of all the weeks of the year, the week Our Lord through His suffering completed the mysteries and accomplished in His own person all that needed to be accomplished for the salvation of the world. He started the week with His grand entry as King into Jerusalem amidst shouts of joy and great jubilation, but knowing full-well that He was entering the holy city for the last time to be crowned, not with a golden crown, but with thorns, not on a throne, but on the cross, and not to be adored, but to suffer humiliation and meet His end, since “it cannot be that a prophet should perish away from Jerusalem” (Lk 13.33). On Holy Thursday, He would institute the greatest sacrament and give us Himself as His abiding memorial. We will begin the Holy Triduum and be invited to keep watch with Him in His agony in the garden. On Good Friday, He would undergo His unimaginable passion in the hands of sinners, “so that by the grace of God, He might taste death for every one” (Heb. 2.9). On that day on which He “became obedient unto death” (Phil. 2.8) and willingly sacrificed Himself on the altar of the cross, the Holy Mass which makes that singular sacrifice present to us will not be celebrated anywhere in the world, but we will communicate in His sacred Body consecrated at the Mass of the Institution of the Holy Eucharist. On Holy Saturday when the King would sleep in death and go to preach to the spirits in prison (1 Peter 3.19), silence will cover the world, and we will mourn for Him as for an only Son (Zech. 12.10); there will be no Mass and no Holy Communion. Later in the night, we will break our silence with shouts of joyful songs as we watch His light rise from the grave in His resurrection and scatter the darkness of sin and death forever. Alleluia, which for the days of Lent is not uttered, will resound from our lips, to the glory of God who has saved us.

READINGS AT SUNDAY MASS

1st Reading Is. 50.4-7; 2nd Reading: Phil. 2.6-11; Gospel: Lk 22.14-23.56

Psalm: Ps 21(22); R: My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?

Gospel Acclamation: Christ was humbler yet, even to accepting death, death on a cross. But God raised Him high and gave Him the name which is above all names.
