+ PALM SUNDAY – YEAR B

“Offer the wicked no resistance.” (Mt 5.39)

The events that took place especially in the last week of Our Lord's earthly life, and that we re-live at Holy Week, marked the final contest between good and evil. At the end of the contest, good secured absolute and final victory over evil; love triumphed over hate, humility over arrogance and pride, gentleness over might, forgiveness over vengeance, life over death – not by a shot being fired or a punch thrown, either in self-defence or retaliation or aggression, but by the obedient suffering and endurance of the only Son in His humble submission to God's will (Heb. 5.8). The reason most people (including the apostles prior to the resurrection) got it wrong about the Lord was their failure to understand that the Christ would come, not in might or splendour, or by dominating the powers of the earth, but in His humility as the Suffering Servant (cf. Is 42.1-4; 49.1-6; 50.4-7; 52.13-53.12). It was indeed both necessary and God's will that He would suffer those things He suffered and so enter into His glory (Lk 24.26). And so, the Saviour did not resist all the ill-treatment He got that He did not deserve – the arrest, the show trial, the mockery, the blows and whips of the soldiers, the crown of thorns, the nails in His hands and feet, the cross, the agony and the death. He accepted all these, submitting Himself most humbly with filial affection to the Father's will. Harshly dealt with, He bore it humbly. “He was oppressed, and He was afflicted, yet He opened not His mouth; like a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and like a sheep that before its shearer is silent, so He opened not His mouth” (Is 53.7). For that reason, God highly exalted Him, and gave Him the name that is above every name (Phil. 2.9).
