WELCOME AND PROCLAIM THE GOSPEL

Say/sing together:

Alleluia, alleluia!
The Lord has sent me
to proclaim the Good News.
Alleluia!

A reading from the Good News given to us by Luke.
Glory to you, Lord.

After reading from the prophet Isaiah in the synagogue Jesus began to speak:
'The words you have just heard are coming true today in me.' The people were amazed, because he made the scriptures so clear by the way he read and explained them.

DISCUSSION

Recap as much as may be necessary from last week: that Jesus is in his home town; he has just read from the scroll of Isaiah; and said that the prophecy is coming true in him.

Why did the people begin to mutter, and then get angry with Jesus?
- because they didn't like what he said.

What did they not like?
- that someone they knew should be telling them how to behave
- that he told them to stop being selfish, etc.

Do the children think the people wanted to change their lives?
- no. They closed their hearts to Jesus.

HEARING

Show the pictures of the different people;
encourage the children to look at each other and to notice their differences.
Would their parents notice if a different child took their place?
Why?
Ask the children to sit in a circle, to hold hands, and to recite line by line:

We are all different.
We look different.
We feel different.
We think differently.
We walk differently.
We talk differently.
But we try to love each and everyone as they are.
We do not pretend to be what we are not.
We try to be true to ourselves.

Many people, though, began to mutter against Jesus, saying 'Who does he think he is? We know he's only the carpenter's son.'
Jesus continued speaking.
'The Kingdom of God is here. You must change your ways, turn from your selfishness.' Then the people got angry and threw him out of the synagogue.
This is the Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

ACTIVITIES

Give out the cut-outs.
Ask them have the children write and draw:
- some of the people they know;
- and a prayer asking that they will never close their hearts to Jesus.

- > Have the children act out the Gospel story, if possible with modern day equivalents.
