

Reflection Friday 5th Week Easter 2023

Jesus made every effort to keep things simple and straightforward but we like to complicate things and miss the point. Jesus says to us 'This is my commandment: love one another, as I have loved you.' Jesus loved us unconditionally and he asks that of us, to love without conditions. In other words, Jesus asks us to love with the very best of our ability. It is not a competition about who loves more, or better, or anything else. We cannot do more than our best but we can do our best

Let us not forget, too, that we have been chosen to do great things and because we are chosen God will help and guide us to the fulfil these great things with the help of the love of God that lives within.

Love one another as I have loved you . . .

When love talks....

At place of Skulls

My Cross is set

Nailed hands and feet

Crowned thorns of death

When darkness surrounds

The veil is torn

Blood is shed

And I'm reborn

Into your hearts

God's word will shine

SHINE...

time after time

What was said

is forever true:

Love one another

as I have loved you!!

How do you count cows? A: With a cowculator.

I never wanted to believe that my Dad was stealing from his job as a road worker. But when I got home, all the signs were there.
