Year C NINETEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME 7TH AUG 2016

Luke 12: 32-48 You too must stand ready.

My Dear Parishioners of St Augustine's, this Sunday's Gospel portrays a master returning suddenly late at night from a wedding and finding his servants ready to welcome him. This master stands for Christ who will come to take us to the kingdom on the day of our death. Shall we be ready to meet him when that day comes? We need to be prepared all the time persevering in living our faith, having our lamps lit because no one knows when the Lord God shall call us to appear before Him.

Then, Jesus added, "Blessed are those slaves whom the master finds alert when he comes; truly I tell you, he will fasten his belt and have them sit down to eat, and he will come and serve them. Where? In God's kingdom."

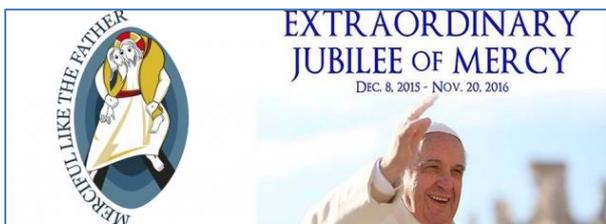

Jesus concluded His teaching by saying, "From everyone to whom much has been given, much will be required; and from the one to whom much has been entrusted, even more will be demanded."

Each one of us according to the various responsibilities entrusted to us will have to give accountability to the Lord. Those who are entrusted with the care of souls, the clergy members, the parents who have children, the teachers, the politicians, the judges, the lawyers, the police, everyone in whatever capacity shall be made accountable. Let us be ready all the time doing the duties entrusted to us by God faithfully.

This is my last weekend this summer. Farewell to all of you. My sincere thanks to Fr Philip who always invites me to cover for him when he is on holiday and all of you for your warm welcome and the love you show me in various ways. May God bless you abundantly. Let us keep one another in our prayers.

Fr John Baptist.

From Misericordiae Vultus, Pope Francis on the 'Holy Year of Mercy,' n. 21:

Mercy is not opposed to justice but rather expresses God's way of reaching out to the sinner, offering him a new chance to look at himself, convert, and believe. The experience of the prophet Hosea can help us see the way in which mercy surpasses justice. The era in which the prophet lived was one of the most dramatic in the history of the Jewish people. The kingdom was tottering on the edge of destruction; the people had not remained faithful to the covenant; they had wandered from God and lost the faith of their forefathers.

According to human logic, it seems reasonable for God to think of rejecting an unfaithful people; they had not observed their pact with God and therefore deserved just punishment: in other words, exile. ... And yet, after this invocation of justice, the prophet radically changes his speech and reveals the true face of God: "... How can I hand you over, O Israel! My heart recoils within me, my compassion grows warm and tender. I will not execute my fierce anger; ... for I am God and not man, the Holy One in your midst, and I will not come to destroy." Saint Augustine, almost as if he were commenting on these words of the prophet, says: "It is easier for God to hold back anger than mercy". And so it is. God's anger lasts but a moment, his mercy forever.

As yet we have not sourced anyone to take up the post of a parish catechist, but Fr Philip is in discussion with friends in the diocese who have experience in this area, to try and find a recommended and suitably qualified person for the post. ### PRAYER OF THE WEEK

9TH AUGUST

ST TERESA BENEDICTA OF THE CROSS

Lord, God of our fathers,

You brought Saint Teresa Benedicta to the fullness of the science of the cross at the hour of her martyrdom. Fill us with that same knowledge; and, through her intercession, allow us always to seek after you, the supreme truth, and to remain faithful until death to the covenant of love ratified in the blood of your Son for the salvation of all men and women. We ask this through Christ, our Lord.
