YEAR A

FIRST SUNDAY OF ADVENT

3RD DECEMBER 2023

Gospel: Mark 13: 33-37

Stay awake, because you do not know when the master of the house is coming.

Today we enter the season of Advent. We await Jesus' second coming, while preparing for Christmas, the annual celebration of his first coming as a babe in Bethlehem. Advent means a coming toward; a coming towards Christmas but also a coming towards the return of Jesus, who told us to expect and await his sudden return. Over the next four weeks the great Advent hymn, O Come O Come Emmanuel will be sung countless times. It has its origin in the monastic plainchant of the 'O' Antiphons in the Jewish scriptures referring to the coming of the Messiah. German Jesuits composed the text of the hymn in the 17th century, while its famous tune comes from a French requiem chant of the 15th century. O Come, O come Emmanuel, and ransom captive Israel! Those words have particular resonance this year as we pray for the release of Israel's hostages. Of course, Israel is captive in other ways, as is every other nation, including our own, together with the whole of creation, awaiting the Saviour's return. God the Son has existed from eternity, but just as he entered his-story at his first coming, so he will re-enter his-story to complete it, not in disguise this time, as he was in the womb of Mary, but in glory, with her, and with all the angels and saints. At the Ascension, the disciples were told that Jesus would return in the same way as he had left them. This inclines us towards Jerusalem. Our destiny is a transformed, new Jerusalem. Jesus told the Samaritan woman a time is coming when true worship will transcend the limitations of temporal space. But this doesn't mean that temporal space has no bearing on our faith. Every time we pray the Lord's Prayer, we pray that God's will be done on earth as it is in heaven. We can easily fall into the trap of over spiritualising or immaterialising our faith. In so doing, we deny the incarnation-that Jesus has come in our flesh as one of us, and consequently, the very material nature of his atoning death for our sin. Last week Jesus reminded us that the quality of our faith is worked out in very practical material ways. As if to underline this we call these acts of mercy 'corporeal' done in the body and to the body.....'in as much as you did it to one of the least of these you did it to me'. If we are prone to spiritualise faith, we are prone also to spiritualise holy scriptures. Jesus' bible was the Jewish scriptures, otherwise known to us as the 'Old' testament. The writings which we call the 'New' testament were added to them, because they testify to Jesus as the true Messiah that the 'old' had prophesied and looked forwards to. As our St Augustine said, 'In the Old Testament the New is concealed, in the New Testament, the Old is revealed'. The two testaments belong to each other. The Old is not simply an analogy for the New, or to be dispensed with altogether, as Hitler wished. It is eternally valid for the Jewish people as recent papal teaching has reminded us. The chosen people were chosen by God, not because they deserved it, but simply because he chose them to reveal his love to the world. No nation was so blessed by God, but as the pages of scripture reveal, no nation falls so often under God's judgement because of this privileged calling. Covenantal relationships were broken, yet the faithful prophets revealed the prospect of a new covenant on securer grounds. Yet as St Paul reminds us the previous covenants were irrevocable, including the promise of a return to the land. With this privilege came responsibilities, including welcoming those in our midst and caring for the poor. As today, there were non-Jewish communities who lived in the land, such as the Samaritans, the Syro-Phoenicians and other gentile peoples. We await the universal blessings of the Promised Land. As Christians we believe that only with Jesus' return, will the Jewish people recognise Him as their glory and non-Jewish people as their light. In spite of well-meaning peace gestures, only in Him will Jew and Palestinian find ultimate security.... that shalom and salaam which is so eagerly yearned for.

Maranatha Come Lord Jesus!

Fr Julian.

FINANCIAL RESULTS FOR 2022:

During 2022, we did not cover our daily running costs and had an average deficit of £663 per week. Even though our total offertory has gone up by 24.4% over the last 3 years, the average weekly donation per person was £3.67. If you are in a position to give more, it would make a real difference. Just 32% of our total offertory and donations were gift aided. If everyone had gift-aided their donations, we would have received an extra £26,036 this year! If you pay tax, please do sign up for Gift Aid so that we can add 25% to everything that you give, at no cost to yourself. You will find gift aid forms by the newsletters or you can click on the link above.

NO CASH? You can make your offering here by scanning the QR Code with your smartphone. Alternatively, there is a contactless device at the left-hand exit door of the church. If you are a Tax Payer, please complete the Gift Aid Declaration.
