4th Sunday of Easter

30th April 2023

DISCERNING THE VOICE OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

The fourth Sunday of Easter, which we celebrate today, is dedicated to Jesus the Good Shepherd. The Gospel says that: "The sheep hear his voice, and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out". However, the Gospel says, there are other voices that are not to be followed: those of strangers, thieves and brigands who mean harm to the sheep. There is the voice of God, who speaks kindly to the conscience, and there is the tempting voice that leads to evil. They speak different languages. The voice of God never forces us: God proposes himself. He does not impose himself. Instead, the evil voice seduces, assails, forces: it arouses dazzling illusions, emotions that are tempting but transient. Another difference: the voice of the enemy distracts us from the present and wants us to focus on fears of the future or sadness about past bad memories. On the other hand, the voice of God speaks in the present: "Now you can do well, now you can exercise the creativity of love, now you can forego the regrets and remorse that hold your heart captive." Again: the two voices raise different questions in us. The one that comes from God will be: "What is good for me?" Instead the tempter will insist on another question: "What do I feel like doing?" What do I feel: the evil voice always revolves around the ego, its impulses and needs: everything straight away! It is like a child's tantrums: everything, and now. The voice of God, however, never promises joy at a low price: it invites us to go beyond our ego in order to find the true, good peace. Lastly, God's voice and that of the tempter, speak in different "environments": the enemy prefers darkness, falsehood, and gossip; the Lord loves sunlight, truth, and sincere transparency. The enemy will say to us: "Close yourself up in yourself, besides no one understands and listens to you! Goodness, on the contrary, invites us to open up, to be clear and trusting in God and in others. Let us pay attention to the voices that reach our hearts. Let us ask for the grace to recognize and follow the voice of the Good Shepherd! – Pope Francis (2020)
