1st SUNDAY
LENTBeginning Our Lenten Journey

On this day, marked by the austere symbol of ashes, we enter the season of Lent, beginning a spiritual journey that prepares us for celebrating worthily the Easter Mysteries. The blessed ashes imposed upon our forehead are a sign that reminds us of our condition as creatures, that invites us to repent, and to intensify our commitment to convert, to follow the Lord ever more closely. Lent is a journey, it means accompanying Jesus who goes up to Jerusalem, the place of fulfilment of his mystery of Passion, Death, and Resurrection; it reminds us that Christian life is a 'way' to take, not so much consistent with a law to observe as with the very Person of Christ, to encounter, to welcome, to follow.

It is above all in the liturgy, by participating in the holy mysteries, that we are led to make this journey with the Lord; it means learning at the school of Jesus, reviewing the events that brought salvation to us but not as a mere commemoration, a remembrance of past events. In the liturgical actions, Christ makes himself present through the power of the Holy Spirit and these saving events become real. There is a keyword that recurs frequently in the liturgy to indicate this; the word 'today'; and it should be understood in its original and practical, rather than metaphorical, sense. Today God reveals his law and we are granted to choose today between good and evil, between life and death (Dt 30:19). 'The time has come' he said 'and the kingdom of God is close at hand. Repent, and believe the Good News'(Mk 1: 15). Today Christ died on Calvary and rose from the dead; he ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father; today the Holy Spirit is given us; today is a favourable time.

Dear friends, on this Lenten journey, let us be careful to accept Christ's invitation to follow him more decisively and consistently, renewing the grace and commitments of our Baptism, to cast off the former person within us and put on Christ, in order to arrive at Easter renewed and able to say, with St Paul: I live now not with my own life but with the life of Christ who lives in me (Ga 2: 20). I wish you all a good Lenten Journey!

Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI

LENT

Lent can be daunting at times. Having to give up something, attending the weekly Stations of the Cross or words such as 'sacrifice', 'self-denial' are used which might suggest that Lent is something to endure rather than seeing it as a time of grace and growth.

Lent could be seen as a second chance each year. The Church gives us these six weeks of Lent to look at ourselves to see if our values and priorities are in line with God's desire for us. Since we have wandered off from God, Lent becomes that second opportunity to change and 'return to God'.

For several years I had lapsed as a Catholic Lent was something to forget about and could get on doing my own thing. It was a chance encounter with Sr. Louise (one might say providential) who re-introduced me back into the Church. Now Lent became important; I could join in the weekly Stations of the Cross. But to give up something was difficult I would succeed for about a week and then revert back to type.

Now I am determined to make a go at it by making the effort to be focused on my spiritual journey and prepare well for Easter and so allow the grace of God to work in me. I wish you all a Happy Lent!

Fr. Christopher

1st Lent

We are faced with temptations, ordeals, and hardships of one kind or another as part of our daily life. Confronted with such situations, we can choose to follow our Lord or not. As St Paul tells us none of us is tempted beyond our strength. Why? because our Lord has conquered every sin, temptations, and ordeals through His Passion, Death, and Resurrection. In sharing in our Lord's triumph, we can be confident we will be victorious.

Angel came to minister to our Lord at the moment of his trials. Aren't we surrounded by family, friends, and people we might know who are going through trials be at their place of work, serious health issues? Consider for a moment how we could be angels to them and to support them in coming through their situation.

Fr Javier

Refuting the Tempter

Suppose the tempter makes us feel the pinch of poverty, as he did even to Christ and taking advantage of our hunger talks of turning stones into bread; we must not be taken in by him, but let him learn what he has still not grasped. Refute him with the word of life, with the word that is the bread sent down from heaven and that gives life to the world. He may try to ensnare us through our vanity, as he tried to ensnare Christ when he set him on the pinnacle of the temple and said, 'Prove your divinity: throw yourself down'. Let us beware of succumbing to pride, for the tempter will by no means stop at one success. He is never satisfied and is always pursuing us. Often he beguiles us with something good and useful, but its end is always evil. That is simply his method of waging war.

We also know how well-versed the devil is in Scripture. When Christ answered the temptation to turn stones into bread with a rebuke from Scripture beginning: Scripture says, the devil countered with the same words, tempting Christ to throw himself down from the pinnacle of the temple. For Scripture says, he quoted, He will put you in his angels' charge, and they will support you on their hands. O past master of all evil, why suppress the verse that follows? You did not finish the quotation, but I know full well what it means: that we shall tread on you as on an adder or a cobra; protected by the Trinity, we shall trample on you as on serpents or scorpions.

If the tempter tries to overthrow us through our greed, showing us at one glance all the kingdoms of the world as if they belonged to him-and demanding that we fall down and worship him, we should despise him, we know him to be a penniless impostor. Strong in our baptism, each of us can say: 'I too am made in the image of God, but unlike you, I have not yet become an outcast from heaven through my pride. I have put on Christ, by my baptism I have become one with him. It is you that should fall prostrate before me. By these words, he can only surrender and retire in shame; as he retreated before Christ, the light of the world, so will he depart from those illumined by that light. Such are the gifts conferred by baptism on those who understand its power; such the rich banquet it lays before those who hunger for the things of the Spirit.

St Gregory Nazianzen

Cardinal's Lenten Appeal

Dear Friends,

The season of Lent is a time of reflection for us, a time to draw closer to our Lord. We take the traditional steps during Lent, prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

This year, St Edmund's is supporting the Cardinal's Lenten Appeal through the Lenten Alms collections. The Cardinal's Lenten Appeal was set up to fund initiatives in parishes and charities within the Diocese, contributing to three mission areas of the Church.

Marriage and Family Life: supporting and enriching marriages, the building block of society and the Church.

Youth and Evangelisation: Supporting our young people, who are the future of the Church, their relationship with God and deepen their Catholic Faith.

The Church's Service in Society: putting our faith into action by serving the poor, the lonely and the marginalised.

In the Diocese, there is deepening poverty. People have to overcome the shame of having to go to food banks. Some even though they are at work they find it difficult to make ends meet. The Diocese, through Caritas Westminster, contribute to food banks and other projects to help relieve poverty. Here, permit me to thank you for contributing food to the local food bank which is much appreciated. Last year, Diocese started a new project to open schools during holidays, as children depend on free school meals, holidays can be a time of hunger. With your generous support, children can take part in activities, prepare a healthy meal for them, and they can take food home with them. Please consider The Cardinal's Lenten Appeal as part of your almsgiving, this Lent. Donation leaflets are available on the table as you leave and Gift Aid envelopes are available attached to the leaflet. I thank you on behalf of Cardinal Vincent Nichols, for helping to put hope into action across the Diocese.

Fr. Christopher

During Lent and Easter tide at the end of the Bidding Prayers, we shall be saying the Hail Holy Queen (it can be found on the front cover of your mass book)

During Lent, our Profession of Faith is the Apostles Creed (on page 12)

33 Days to Morning Glory

Copies of this Booklet is available for you to take, for each member of your family. As a family, say the daily prayers, as part of your preparation for the Day Of Consecration 29th March 20 when on page 33 we here at St Edmund's will Consecrate ourselves to Mary
