"Welcome, happy morning!" age to age shall say:
"Hell at last is conquered, heav'n is won today!"

Jesus, Lord, is living God for evermore!
Him, their true creator, all his works adore.

Earth its joy confesses, clothes itself for spring,
Newness flows within it with its risen king:
Flow'r in ev'ry meadow, leaves on ev'ry bough,
All his sorrow ended, hail the triumph now.

Maker and redeemer, life and strength to all:
Yet, of Father's Godhead, Son, by heav'nly call:
You, from heav'n beholding, human nature's shame,
Mortals to deliver, flesh yourself became.

Christ, of life the author, death did undergo,
Tread the path of darkness, saving strength to show:
Come then, true and faithful, now fulfil your word:
You brought the morning: raise us, risen Lord!

Months in due succession, days of length'ning light,
Hours and passing moments praise you in their flight.
Brightness of the morning, fields and sea and sky,
All the vast creation, raise the joyful cry:
"Welcome, happy morning," age to age shall say.
