'Shortly, these candidates will prostrate themselves on the floor of the Cathedral, taking up a posture of utter vulnerability, of self-abandonment. They do so as a sign of dying to self, so that Christ may raise them up to a new life in him...They do so in the company of St. John Southworth, whose mortal remains, our precious relics, are there alongside them. But if you look more closely, we will notice that the saint lies with his face turned upward to God, already full of the glory of the Risen Christ. For our part, we prostrate ourselves face downwards, knowing that we depend on God's mercy and grace. The one who is dead is now fully alive in God. We who are alive seek to die in Christ so he may live in us...'

Cardinal Vincent Nichols said these beautiful words at my ordination day and to this day they are a source of strength and consolation for me.

The Feast of All Saints is truly a feast that should fill us with hope because in them we see the result of the work of sanctification that God performs in each one of us; when we look at the Saints, or read their story, we should not think: 'I would never be able to do that, suffer like that, live like that'...Whatever great or small work that the saints performed, it was not done just trusting their own strength, but by keeping their faces turned upward to God, already full of the glory of the Risen Christ. Jesus is the one who can do all in all.

As St. John Paul II said many times, we should never be afraid of being saints! God will continue to work in us and through us so that His holy grace may touch many through us, so that we may be his instruments in the sanctification of many. The Saints want us to be with them; The ones who are dead are now fully alive in God. We who are alive seek to die in Christ so he may live in us...May this be fulfilled in us. Amen.

The parish office will be closed from Monday 31st October to Monday 7th November inclusive.

The Sick & Retired Priests' collection

The collection for the sick and retired priests of our Diocese is now open. Most priests offer their resignation at 75, but many continue to serve in our schools, hospitals, hospices and parishes. By supporting the Sick & Retired Priests' Fund, you can help cover essential costs and give them peace of mind that in the event of an emergency, their needs will be met. This is our chance to say thank you to our sick and retired priests who have given so much. You will find a donation envelope at the back of the church today. Please take one home, and bring it back next weekend with your donation. You can also online at www.rcdow.org.uk/donations
