Letter from Langdon Street

My dear people

During the month of July we shall hear passages from St Paul's Epistle to the Romans. It is the first listed among the epistles and it is considered to be the most profound. It is also the longest. Some of the great Fathers of the Church, like St Augustine, have written commentaries on it. Two of the Protestant reformers, Luther and Calvin, also wrote about it at great length.

In today's passage St Paul talks about the Christian life which is rooted in God's Spirit. This fits in with the other readings today. We are all filled with the Spirit at our baptism and that Spirit has the power to transform us if we acknowledge his presence within us. In the Gospel Our Lord warns us not to be overconfident in our own efforts but to have the simplicity and trust that we find in little children. Sometime the learned and the clever fail to understand the real message of Jesus which is revealed to mere children.

The Second Vatican Council made it clear that the treasures of the Bible are to be opened up to everyone. Previously there were a limited number of Sunday readings which were repeated at weekday mass. We now have the Bible opened up with the whole of St Matthew's Gospel read to us this year on Sundays. Next year it will be St Mark's Gospel and the following year it will be St Luke's Gospel. During Lent and Easter it is St John's Gospel that is proclaimed. The first Christians attended mass which was then described as the Breaking of Bread, the Sacred Eucharist and the Divine Mysteries. The scripture readings were seen by some people as merely an introduction to the Eucharist. Vatican II stressed that the words of the Lord in the Scriptures must also be broken open for us to understand their meaning and significance. We are nourished by Jesus, the Word of God in the Eucharist. We are also nourished by the Word of God in the Holy Bible.

Today we have gathered once again to be reminded of our destiny, offered to us and to all who acknowledge Jesus as the Son of God, to be fortified by the Word of God in the Scriptures and in Holy Communion so that when we are called into the Kingdom we shall be ready to take our place at the heavenly banquet.

A few months ago some of you kindly completed a questionnaire that Dan needed as part of his university programme. In quite a few of the replies there was strong support for setting up a parish council. He and I have received a number of requests individually. What I intend to do is to invite parishioners to a special meeting in September to consider the matter.

There are various blueprints available. There can be a group of parishioners elected geographically. There can be representatives of the different pastoral groups in the parish. There can be a group nominated by the parish priest. There can be a mixture of all the above. There can also be a parish in council when there are several open meetings to which all are invited.

Having set up a council, what should be its terms of reference? What items should be on the agenda? It needs to be more than a talking shop. It would need projects to be undertaken. Some years ago there were house groups for the At Your Word programme. I am told that these were excellent but they gradually faded away. There have been attempts to have prayer groups, discussion groups and social activities groups.

During the summer months, please think about this matter and come to the meeting with your suggestions. The provisional date for the meeting is the evening of Wednesday 24 September.

And finally, welcome back to Wendy who is back with us part time. I am most grateful to the team of people who have taken over during her absence and will continue to do some of her previous duties.

Yours sincerely

HOSPITAL PATIENTS

In case you are admitted to hospital please indicate when you enter hospital, or arrange for someone to do so on your behalf, that your details should be passed to the RC Chaplain. You should also state that you would like the RC Chaplain to visit you. The Data Protection Acts do not allow hospital staff to reveal details of patients to chaplains or anyone else who is not a member of the hospital staff.

FOOD BANK

The DENS Dacorum Foodbank would be grateful for the following items: Hot Puddings (tinned), Cold (tinned), Tuna (tinned) and tinned vegetables. They also need of items to support their other services so if you are able to help with any of the following it would be appreciated: Tin Openers – for use in their New Home Starter Packs, single duvets and kitchen roll – for use across their other Services.

The Foodbank provides emergency food for local people in crisis. Telephone: 01442 250969 or mobile number: 07904 674236. www.dacorumfoodbank.org.uk www.DENS.org.uk

WHEN MAKING YOUR WILL

A very valuable way for you to support our parish would be to make provision in your will for a legacy. There is a leaflet at the back of church, which you may find helpful when you next think of revising your will.

RETRouvaille

Retrouvaille offers a lifeline to troubled marriages. Backed by prayer, this programme has healed and turned around thousands of marriages on the brink of collapse and even brought divorced couples back together again. The next programme starts on the 27th -29th September 2013. Don't miss this lifeline if your marriage is painful – visit www.retrouvaille.org.uk or email info@retrouvaille.org.uk or call or text 0797 338 0443 in complete confidence.

CATHOLIC SINGLES

Catholic Singles is an organisation which helps single adult Catholics of all ages meet, either one to one or through social events. Please telephone 0161 941 3498, send an email to
