FR ANDREW WRITES:

This week the Holy Father, Pope Francis, published a new apostolic exhortation on the call to holiness in today's world, entitled 'Gaudete et exsultate' ('Rejoice and be glad'). These are the words of the Lord Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount, and the Holy Father wants to remind us that we are each called to be holy, to be a saint.

Holiness is available to each of us in our everyday lives. We each have our own path to holiness, and we will find it only by being fully ourselves. To achieve that goal requires God's grace, especially through the sacraments, and heroic effort on our part to be kind, especially by avoiding gossip, judgement of others, defamation and cruelty.

It's not a short letter, but easy to read. You can find it online:

catholicchurch.org.uk/Home/News/Gaudete-et-Exsultate

With my prayers and blessings, and wishing you a continued happy Easter, Fr Andrew.

Pope Francis, Gaudete et Exsultate, 11. We should not grow discouraged before examples of holiness that appear unattainable. There are some testimonies that may prove helpful and inspiring, but that we are not meant to copy, for that could even lead us astray from the one specific path that the Lord has in mind for us. The important thing is that each believer discern his or her own path, that they bring out the very best of themselves, the most personal gifts that God has placed in their hearts (cf. 1 Cor 12:7), rather than hopelessly trying to imitate something not meant for them. We are all called to be witnesses, but there are many actual ways of bearing witness.

14. To be holy does not require being a bishop, a priest or a religious. We are frequently tempted to think that holiness is only for those who can withdraw from ordinary affairs to spend much time in prayer. That is not the case. We are all called to be holy by living our lives with love and by bearing witness in everything we do, wherever we find ourselves.
